

<https://www.farneke.com/job/electronic-av-technician/>

Electronic / AV Technician

Description

Audio video (AV) technicians should have advanced knowledge of audio and video equipment, experience with lighting and filming techniques, and excellent troubleshooting skills. AV Technician is responsible to set up and operate the video, audio, and lighting equipment used to enhance live events.

Responsible for organizing and installing media equipment such as projectors, assemble microphones, mix sound boards, coordinate graphics, operate spotlights, manage video recordings, and provide technical support for corporate events with excellent troubleshooting skills.

Responsibilities

AV Technician is responsible for organizing and installing media equipment such as projectors, assemble microphones, mix sound boards, coordinate graphics, operate spotlights, manage video recordings, and provide technical support for corporate events with excellent troubleshooting skills. They must but not limited to:

- In-depth knowledge of sound, video, and lighting equipment.
- Familiarity with computers and IP Networking Systems.
- Set up and installing microphones, lights, video monitors, projectors, speakers, and video cameras.
- Conduct sound, visual, and performance quality cheques on Audio Video equipment.
- Inspect mountings and electrical equipment to ensure they conform to health and safety regulations.
- Record keeping filing.
- Operate sound and visual equipment during live events.
- Troubleshoot equipment and ensuring events run smoothly.
- Maintain strong customer relations.
- Disassemble audio and visual equipment and packing up after the event.
- Excellent troubleshooting skills.
- A keen eye for detail.
- High level of physical fitness and the ability to lift heavy equipment.
- Laying electrical and sound cables.
- Setting up and installing microphones, lights, video monitors, projectors, speakers, and video cameras.
- Complete work orders on time
- Create records of materials used

Requirements

- Previous experience working as an AV technician.
- In-depth knowledge of sound, video, and lighting equipment.
- Familiarity with computers and IP Networking Systems.
- Excellent troubleshooting skills.
- A keen eye for detail.
- High level of physical fitness and the ability to lift heavy equipment.
- Good communication and interpersonal skills.

Hiring organization

Farnek Services LLC

Employment Type

Full-time

Industry

Facilities Management

Date posted

05/15/2024

- Flexibility to work long shifts and overnight

Contacts

Send your CV to : recruitment@farnek.com